FOREWORD

Of special importance to the Shorthorn breeding interests are the cattle cataloged by Weaver & Garden to sell in this, their fourth annual sale. These are important and valuable to the herds of this country because they are the product of blood lines that has, and is, exerting a mighty influence for good in the breed's improvement, and the merit of this lot of cattle, all through the list, is but more and stronger evidence of this fact. A casual study of the pedigrees in this book reveals that the predominating strains of blood are those of Whitehall Sultan, Villager, Cumberland's Last, Choice Goods and Gainford Marquis breeding—five great sires whose influence in Shorthorn improvement and advancement has no parallel in the breed's history in this country. There will be noted a few bulls and heifers by Villager, and of most importance is the fact that there are listed some thirty cows and heifers with calves at foot or in calf to Villager, and the remaining bred to that grand son and champion Villager's Coronet, the bull that is to continue in service at Uppermill. It may be the last opportunity to secure the get of that grand old bull Villager, and if breeders will realize the full significance of what this means to the breeding interests an effort surely will be made to have the blood of this sire represented in their herds. As the writer recalls the many good things by this sire at his first American home, Cottage Hill, and has observed a wealth of other material contributed to the breed by him since, and is not unmindful of the exceptional showing that his grandsons and granddaughters made at the Congress Show, he is more firm than ever in the conviction that Villager has earned a place among the greatest sires of his time, and his name or his descendants' names in a pedigree will add materially to the value of such animals for years to come.

(Signed) GEO. E. MARTIN,
Of the Breeder's Gazette.
